ALTERNATIVES (P.B.)

- ① DW taking right steps \Rightarrow organisational improvements
- ② Local Gov't & civil society links very important
- ③ Progressive change of focus in SATER programme from actual implementation to providing service (back up support)
- ④ Consolidation vs. expansion geographic expansion is a good idea.
- ⑤ Increased profile in international forums to actively go to int'l. events.

NZA (Bob V.) speaks only about DWA.

- ① in terms of process, it might be helpful to have external people involved in DW sectors to comment on what they think of DW & their work.
- ② DWA ~~train~~ internal training should extend to other NGOs/NGOs possibly through establishment of a separate but related training arm.
- ③ Be more proactive ⁱⁿ starting initiatives.
Find more allies.

OWA (H.C.)

- impressive reports on orgztl. level.

1. There are different levels of organizational development across different units, DW must be conscious of this to ensure parts of DW are ^{not lagging behind}

2. Great scope for specialization

3. Need to take strategic planning further take it down to an action programme.

4. COMMUNICATION WITHIN DW. AND W/ PARTNERS.

1. Need to have a higher profile.

~~AA~~
2.

5. Need for a forum for discussing cross-cutting issues:

- gender

- democratization

- technical work + balance w/ socio-economic empowerment work.

- policy papers as a useful way of threshing out these issues.

M.I.D. - training institute is a major departure from our current thinking

K.A. - strategic planning in DWA to bring other partners that are external to it.

F.A. - all 3 partners are telling us same message to set aside a time for reflection.

getting together + developing our own
